

Delivery of your Slush machine.

All the items are delivered strapped on to a pallet.
The delivery truck normally has a tail lift fitted and the driver should wheel it out using their own pallet trucks and deliver it to the door or as close as they can.
However, please note that this is not always possible so delivery is considered complete when the pallet is off the truck.

On the top of the box that contains the machine you will find a clear document pouch containing a packing list and the user manual. The user manual includes details about your warranty, Please read this and keep it safe.

Unwrap the pallet and move the items separately. Sack trucks would be useful, otherwise two people will be needed to move the machine.

To unpack the machine, cut the two straps
(these may be covered with tape)

Lift the box off the machine.

The machine is bulky and heavy so will need two people to lift it into place.
Read all of the user manual before use.
